Sun City Players Announces 2021-22 Season

With the elimination of RCSC Covid restrictions effective May 17, Sun City Players Community Theater is preparing for a new season of on-stage plays that will be available to Sun City residents and the public beginning in November.

During the pandemic downtime, SCPCT leaders have been busy upgrading current rules and regulations, choosing new material for the season and researching the preferences of the members and the audience members.

“We’re all about pleasing our audience” said Players President Jim McConnell.

Players recently held their first members meeting since March 2020, to determine member interest and readiness to participate in plays and other club activities.

“The response was overwhelmingly positive,” McConnell said.

Players Transition Team Chairman Dan See’s committee developed a questionnaire for ticket purchasers to determine their interest and readiness to attend Players on-stage plays at Mountain View Recreation center.

According to See, there was an extremely high response rate to the questionnaire. Respondents expressed interest in seeing more mystery and humor topics, as well as an interest in attending events “soon”. The evaluation of these research activities has resulted in a decision to bring Players back on stage in Fall 2021.

The Season opener, “Suite Surrender,” will premier in November and offer evening and matinee performances. “Suite surrender” is an intriguing. and hilarious view of the conflicts between two divas, who have quite different tastes and opinions (and their conflicts at a very ritzy hotel). Season Tickets will be available for internet purchase, beginning August 1.

The 2022 two shows planned are: “Don ’t talk to the Actors” in January and “Murder on the Menu” in March.

Sun City Players will observe all current CDC guidelines in effect at the time of each performance, which will be posted at Mountain View Center, and available in advance at Players website, Suncityplayerscommunitytheater.org. Players membership for Sun City Recreation Center cardholders is also available on-line. Support Players at the current dues of $5 per year.
